Mayo Clinic Laboratories is pleased to offer prior authorization services and third party billing on our Dilated Cardiomyopathy and Left Ventricular Noncompaction Cardiomyopathy Gene Panel, Varies (DCLNG). To utilize our prior authorization services on this test, you must follow the process as outlined below.

Ordering and Prior Authorization Process

To order DCLNG with prior authorization services, complete this document as instructed below by insurance type. You must order test code DCLNG and send the completed paperwork in with the sample. The receipt of the paperwork and sample at Mayo Clinic Laboratories will trigger the extract and hold process and generate a request to the MCL Business Office to verify your patient's insurance coverage for the testing and begin any additional prior authorization services.

If the expected patient out-of-pocket expense is greater than $200, Mayo Clinic Laboratories will seek approval from the client contact listed on the Patient Demographics and Third Party Billing Information form before proceeding with DCLNG testing. To Whom It May Concern:

We are requesting preauthorization for the Dilated Cardiomyopathy and Left Ventricular Noncompaction Cardiomyopathy Gene Panel, Varies (DCLNG) performed by Mayo Clinic Laboratories for (insert patient name) _____

Patient's personal medical history is significant for _____

Patient's family history is significant for _____

Due to the patient's medical history, a diagnosis of an inherited form of dilated cardiomyopathy (DCM) or left ventricular noncompaction cardiomyopathy (LVNC) is suspected and genetic testing is recommended.

Rationale: The Heart Rhythm Society (HRS), European Heart Rhythm Association (EHRA), Asia Pacific Heart Rhythm Society (APHRS), Latin American Heart Rhythm Society (LAHRS), and the Heart Failure Society of America (HFSA) recommend that genetic testing be offered to individuals with suspected dilated cardiomyopathy (DCM) or left ventricular noncompaction cardiomyopathy (LVNC).^{1,2} Test results will have a direct impact on this patient's medical management, screening, and prevention of potential complications of DCM and LVNC, including sudden cardiac death.^{1,2}

In many cases, DCM/LVNC is caused by a variant in a gene involved in heart muscle structure and function, and occurs as an isolated finding. However, DCM/LVNC may also occur as part of a systemic condition, such as laminopathies, Danon disease, and various myopathies. Genetic testing can differentiate isolated versus syndromic forms of inherited DCM/LVNC and help guide treatment and management. In summary, a positive genetic test result would provide a definitive cause for this patient's DCM/LVNC and would ensure this patient is being treated appropriately.

A negative genetic test result could also be informative. A negative result may help to reinforce that the patient does not have an inherited form of DCM/LVNC or, alternatively, it could indicate that additional genetic testing (such as whole exome or whole genome sequencing) should be considered to confirm an alternate diagnosis and allow for gene-specific management and screening.

Genetic testing can confirm a diagnosis of an inherited form of DCM/LVNC, and a positive result may mean family members are at up to a 50% risk of being affected, or of being a carrier for an inherited form of DCM/LVNC. When a familial variant has been identified, genetic testing can identify family members who are not at increased risk to develop symptoms and complications associated with DCM/LVNC. No other test can reliably differentiate unaffected family members, who do not require further health screening, from presymptomatic affected family members, who must be followed closely by a cardiologist.

Test requested: Dilated Cardiomyopathy and Left Ventricular Noncompaction Cardiomyopathy Gene Panel, Varies (DCLNG) is a cost-effective test that utilizes next-generation sequencing (NGS), to evaluate 63 genes for hypertrophic cardiomyopathy-associated variants.

Laboratory information: Testing would be performed at Mayo Clinic Laboratories (TIN# 411346366 / NPI# 1093792350), a CAP-accredited and CLIA-certified laboratory, using 2020 CPT code: 81439.

Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of our preauthorization request. We look forward to hearing back from you.

Sincerely,
