If the expected patient out-of-pocket expense is greater than $200, Mayo Clinic Laboratories will seek approval from the client contact listed on the Patient Demographics and Third Party Billing Information form before proceeding with LYNCP testing. To Whom It May Concern:

We are requesting preauthorization for the Lynch Syndrome Panel, Varies (LYNCP) performed by Mayo Clinic Laboratories for

(insert patient name) _____

Patient's personal medical history is significant for _____

Patient's family history is significant for _____

Due to the patient's medical and/or family history, Lynch syndrome is suspected and genetic testing is recommended. Testing is being recommended for germline evaluation of the 5 genes associated with Lynch syndrome: MLH1, MSH2, MSH6, PMS2, and EPCAM.

Lynch syndrome is the most common inherited colon cancer predisposition syndrome and accounts for 2% to 3% of all colorectal cancers and 2% of all endometrial cancers diagnosed. The highest cancer risks associated with Lynch syndrome include colon cancer (up to a 70% lifetime risk), endometrial cancer (up to a 60% lifetime risk), gastric cancer (up to a 20% lifetime risk), and ovarian cancer (up to a 10% lifetime risk). Other cancers associated with Lynch syndrome include cancers of the small intestine, urinary tract, hepatobiliary tract, pancreas, skin (sebaceous carcinoma) and brain.¹

Rationale: The American Society of Clinical Oncology recommends that genetic testing be offered to individuals with suspected inherited cancer risk in which test results will aid in medical management decision-making.² Visit NCCN.org to see screening recommendations provided by the National Comprehensive Cancer Network. Because an aggressive approach to medical management is necessary for individuals identified as having a genetic mutation, test results are important in reducing cancer risk and promoting early cancer detection.

A positive test result would allow the utilization of appropriate screening guidelines and help guide decisions toward possible preventative measures. For this patient in particular, the genetic test results are needed in order to consider:

Increased colon surveillance (colonoscopy every 1–2 years) or prophylactic surgery

Prophylactic hysterectomy and bilateral salpingo-oophorectomy

Urine analysis (annually)

Other _____

Test requested: LYNCP / Lynch Syndrome Panel, Varies is a cost-effective test that utilizes next-generation sequencing (NGS), multiplex ligation-dependent probe amplification (MLPA) and other technologies to evaluate 5 genes for Lynch syndrome-associated variants and deletions, including: MLH1, MSH2, MSH6, PMS2 and EPCAM. Visit NCCN.org to see personal and/or family history criteria and testing recommendations provided by the National Comprehensive Cancer Network.

Laboratory information: Testing would be performed at Mayo Clinic Laboratories (TIN# 411346366 / NPI# 1093792350), a CAP-accredited and CLIA-certified laboratory, using 2022 CPT codes: 81292, 81295, 81298, 81319, and 81403.

Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of our preauthorization request. We look forward to hearing back from you.

Sincerely,
