

TERT* Promoter Mutations, Next-Generation Sequencing, Tumor

Test ID: TERTT

Explanation:

Effective February 1, 2023, testing for New York clients for TERT Promoter Mutations, Next-Generation Sequencing, Tumor (TERTT) will be delayed, pending approval from the New York State Department of Health. Due to a test versioning update resulting in minor reagent and/or gene region of interest changes, New York State Department of Health must provide continued approval to perform this laboratory testing on New York State patients.

There is no alternative testing available. At your preference, New York state cases can be held until further notification is received from New York State Department of Health, or cases can be cancelled, and materials will be returned.

An update will be provided following the review of this submission by New York Department of Health.
