

UPDATE: February 17, 2025

The expected test delay timeframe has extended to add approximately 20 days to the estimated turnaround timeframe.

MayoComplete Comprehensive Sarcoma Panel, Next-Generation Sequencing, TumorTest ID: MCSRCExplanation:

Due to a change of the chemistry reagent, MCSRC: MayoComplete Comprehensive Sarcoma Panel, Next-Generation Sequencing, Tumor will be delayed effective January 26, 2026. Specimens will be processed upon arrival; however, this delay will add approximately 7-10 days to the estimated turnaround time.

Concurrently with this test delay, test changes to MCSRC will be implemented to the RNA subpanel to align with current World Health Organization classification guidelines.

Additional notification will be sent when standard turnaround time resumes.
